FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

DOMINION PROMOTES PROGRESSION IN RETAIL INDUSTRY
Dominion Customs Takes a Seat on RILA's Supply Chain Security Committee

Dominion Customs Consultants Inc. has joined The Retail Industry Leaders Association (RILA). Originating in 1969 as the Mass Retailing Institute, RILA now represents over 200 companies, 8 of which are part of the top 10 retailers in the United States. Their main goal is to promote advancement within the retail industry through public policy, advocacy, educational forums, promotion of economic freedom and consumer choice.

Members of RILA expand beyond positions in the retail industry as they branch out to include product manufacturers and service suppliers as well. This collaboration of sectors provides comprehensive insight into the retail business as a whole, which in turn strengthens the educational and support tools of the organization.

In addition to their retail enhancing strategies, RILA's board of directors concentrates largely on five other specific areas: human resources, asset protection, finance, supply chain and enterprise issues. Many committees have been established within RILA to better evaluate such areas.

Dominion Customs Consultants Inc. is now actively represented on the supply chain security committee, whose role is to focus on supply chain security policies created by associations such as C-TPAT, 10+2, and the SAFE Port Act.
